Biography:

My work explores the space between decay and rebirth - where the self dissolves, reforms, and mutates in surreal, otherworldly environments. Using vibrant color, warped anatomy, and organic textures, I depict beings in flux; growing through decay, awakening through distortion. Portals of transformation, where perception fractures, and truth emerges in strange, fluid forms. Mushrooms, eyes, spores, and spirit figures appear as symbols of inner growth, decay, and rebirth. Each piece invites the viewer to confront the beauty and discomfort of becoming, to see change not as a destination, but as a continual, chaotic unfolding.

Title: Between Worlds

Series: Evolution Series #9

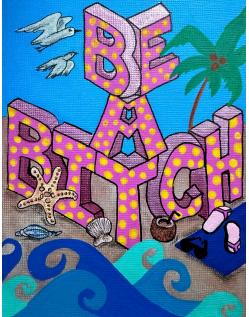

Description:

The unsettling beauty of transformation, where grief reshapes identity and the boundaries of flesh, memory, and dream begin to blur. Suspended in this liminal space, she exists both here and elsewhere, becoming something otherworldly while holding the weight of human emotion.
